7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ron Weiss et al. And hereinafter "Ron Weiss" (Hypursuit: A Hierarchical Network Search Engine that Exploits Content-Link Hypertext Clustering).

As per claim 1, Ron Weiss discloses a process called Hypursuit which is a new hierarchical network search engine for searching a database of entries (See Abstract page 180 left column), comprising the steps of: providing a database of entries, at least part of said entries being mapped to a set of categories, at least part of said entries being associated with keywords; (See bottom of page 180 left column) Applicant should note that Ron Weiss recognizes that the World-Wide-Web is a distributed database wherein database of entries associated with keywords are primarily incorporated. In particular, Ron Weiss discloses in response to a query of a user the step of selecting categories among said set of categories according to the entries returned by said query (See page 186 right column especially clustering result sets paragraph); dynamically selecting keywords associated to the entries returned by said query (See page 186 right column query refinement paragraph); and displaying to the user said selected categories and said selected

As per claims 15, 28, and 31, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 1. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 1 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 2, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the categories are organized in a tree or directed acyclic graph structure (See Fig.2, page 182 left column third paragraph and right column first and second paragraphs, and Fig.3, page 184 left column second and third paragraphs).

As per claims 16 and 32, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 2. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 2 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 3, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the keyword is a sequence of words or a sequence of stemmed words (See Fig.7, and page 187 left column “result set expansion” paragraph).

Art Unit: 2175

As per claims 17 and 33, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 3. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 3 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 4, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the selected categories and selected keywords are displayed similarly (See Figs.6 and 7, and page 186 right column second paragraph, and page 187 left column second paragraph).

As per claims 18, and 34, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 4. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 4 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 5, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the selected categories are displayed separately from selected keywords (See Fig. 6 and 7, and page 186 left column second paragraph, and page 187 left column second paragraph).

As per claims 19 and 35, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 5. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 5 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

Art Unit: 2175

As per claim 6, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, further including that step of starting a new query when a user activates one of said displayed categories and keywords (See Fig.6 and 7, and page 185 left column fourth paragraph).

As per claims 20 and 36, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 6. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 6 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 7, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the step of activating includes excluding from the said query of the user a displayed category or keyword (See 180 right column second paragraph)..

As per claims 21 and 37, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 7. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 7 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 8, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the step of activating includes refining the query of the user to said category or keyword (See Fig.6, page 185 left column bottom of third paragraph, and page 186 right column fourth paragraph).

Art Unit: 2175

As per claims 22 and 38, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 8. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 8 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claims 26 and 42, the claims have substantially the same limitations as claim 12. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 12 above. Therefore, they are rejected in similar ground.

As per claim 13, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein categories are hierarchically organized, and wherein the step of displaying includes displaying categories of different hierarchical levels (See Figs 2 and 3, and page 183 right column fourth paragraph).

Art Unit: 2175

As per claim 14, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein a category is formed of a set of at least two attributes (See Fig.5).

As per claim 27, the claim has substantially the same limitations as claim 14. These limitations have already been addressed in the discussion of claim 14 above. Therefore, it is rejected in similar ground.

As per claims 29 and 30, Ron Weiss discloses the claimed invention, wherein the search server is a HTTP server; wherein the entries are textual entries and the database includes an inverted index, said categories being entries of said inverted index (See page 190 left column third paragraph, and page 192 left column first paragraph).
